S. A. KENNER.

United States attorney, county attorney, city attorney and justice of the peace. At the age of 23 he was on the stump in Nevada for Horace Greeley for president, but his first vote for that office went to W. J. Bryan. He was the nominee of his party in Utah for the legislature four years ago, but was defeated. His success at the last election has been generally conceded to be an honor well deserved.

Mr. Kenner is a member of several committees in the present state legislature. He has introduced more bills than any other half dozen members of the house, and has been successful in getting a number of the most important through. He occupies the unique position of arbiter of legislative etiquette, keeps many of the members posted on proper procedure and points of order, and, altogether, has been one of the most indefatigable, brainy and valued members of Utah's second state legislature. In the senatorial contest he voted for Judge H. P. Henderson as his first choice, and stood for him as long as it seemed possible for him to be elected, but this being early apparent to him a matter of impossibility, he championed the cause of Hon. Joseph L. Rawlins.
